

As managing editor of six newspapers on Long Island, Dave has made his mark as a man of letter. With thirty year's of experience as a reporter, he has covered Kings Park with honesty, dedication and kindness. All newspapers take on issues and look for problems – very few spend so much time and space to highlight the positive as does The Smithtown News, Ambro's paper for the Kings Park area. The town, the school and the organizations have always received recognition for being successful. The best of Kings Park is news for David Ambro.
