

A graduate of Annapolis Naval Academy, Rose Kent did have military time and came out to do the corporate America stage. Somehow all that wove into being an author. Recently she held a book signing evening in Huntington. Her first book entitled Kimichi & Calamari features a wise-cracking adopted Korean boy. Her second novel, Rocky Road, features a 12 year old girl forced to handle family issues. Literacy is something Rose focuses on a great deal of the time. Maybe, just maybe, there will be a book with Kings Park playing a role. She feels that Kings Park along with her parents significantly opened up the world to her.
